Position Available (Title, Dates, and Job Description):	Associate Position in Cincinnati, OH Looking for a high quality practice with excellent mentorship and learning opportunities? Looking for a career that pays well but also makes sure you have time to enjoy a life (for a change)? Looking for an environment where client and staff communication are excellent? How about a practice group that has been selected as the “Best of Cincinnati” multiple times and has an excellent reputation in the community? How about a group that is recognized for “paying forward” to our communities? Sound like a dream opportunity? If you answered “Yes” to the questions above then you may have found the practice for you! Our practice of companion animal medicine is located in the suburbs of Greater Cincinnati area and is currently being staffed by quality minded individuals who are practicing the type of veterinary medicine that they have always wanted to practice. We have an excellent support staff that is fun to work with, low drama, and who know their business. Our clientele is educated, friendly, and willing to take care of their pets properly. Our clinic is fully equipped including a networked comprehensive computer system, Biosound ultrasound and Color Doppler, pulse oximeters, ECG, heart monitors, digital radiography, Luxar and Millenium laser surgical units, cold laser therapy units and more. Our practice now consists of 3 locations and has grown to its present size due to 2 factors: we’re very good veterinarians and our business is well managed (which includes hiring the best people.) The individual that we are seeking must be interested in practicing quality medicine and surgery, must have great people skills, must be a team player, and should be ready to continue their learning process while working alongside terrific mentors. Our commitment to mentoring and teaching is evident by our comprehensive and innovative training programs. We will mentor you in an organized, friendly, non-judgmental way. We currently have a position for a full or part time individual and would be happy to interview new graduates as well as experienced practitioners. We truly feel we have an ideal environment in which we can mentor a new graduate, but if you experienced, one in which we do not interfere with your techniques and will learn from you. We believe in hiring the best and giving them the tools to flourish. We

are seeking an exceptional individual that is interested in a very unique long-term position.

If you have an interest in this unique opportunity, please contact Dr. David Haeussler or Mr. Joey Pursifull (Operations Manager) to schedule an interview at 513-769-7387. You may also reach me via email:
